

University of Cumbria

The University of Cumbria was formed on 1st August 2007 formally, from an amalgamation of St Martin's College, Cumbria Institute of the Arts, and the Cumbrian campuses of the University of Central Lancashire.

The University has campuses in Carlisle, Newton Rigg, Penrith, Ambleside and Lancaster and a specialist teacher-education centre in London.

The University also has strong links and close partnership working with the four FE Colleges in Cumbria:

- Lakes Colleges
- Furness College
- Carlisle College
- Kendal College

This enables HE delivery locally across the county. In addition, the University is the lead institution of Cumbria Higher Learning, a Distributed Learning Network for Cumbria.

UNIVERSITY of Cumbria

Contact

University of Cumbria
Fusehill Street
Carlisle
United Kingdom CA1 2HH

T 0845 606 1144
E enquirycentre@cumbria.ac.uk
W www.cumbria.ac.uk

Provision

Degrees

BSc (Hons) Radiation Protection
MSc Nuclear Security Management

Foundation Degree

FDS Sc Radiation Protection

Specialist Course

Certificate in HE (HE in Radiation Protection)